

sonal kind. Lately, however, Mr. Godfrey was put on the staff of the paper, and it now has a semi-weekly appearance, though it is still principally political in its utterances.

The daily papers are not all the publications that Honolulu has, by any means. There are weeklies and monthlies galore, published in many languages.

The best known and most widely circulated native paper is the Kuokoa. It is edited by J. U. Kawaiunui, a native Hawaiian, who has been at its head a little over three years. He is a staunch supporter of the Provisional Government and of the cause of annexation, and his paper wields a great influence among the native population.

Ka Leo o ka Lahui, a native daily edited by John E. Bush, is a royalist publication of the most rabid kind. A year or so ago it was published in both English and native, but it dropped the English portion shortly before the revolution, and has since devoted itself to the Hawaiian portion of the community only. The Honolulu Company also publishes a native daily in the cause of the ex-queen. There are several other papers of the same kind, but all are of very small circulation and are tottering in the balance between a precarious existence and total oblivion.

The oldest publication in the islands is the Friend, which was first issued in January, 1843. It was established by the Rev. Dr. Damon, who ably edited his paper up to the time of his death, some years ago. It is now conducted by the Rev. Sereno Bishop, and appears as a monthly.

There are two Portuguese papers published in the islands—La Sentinella and Uniao de Lusitania. The former, under the editorship of J. M. Vivas, favors annexation to the United States, while the latter is a royalist paper. Two Chinese and one Japanese newspaper complete the foreign publications.

The Paradise of the Pacific, a monthly publication, with Frank Godfrey as its editor, is used principally as a means of advertising the islands abroad, and in this way has done considerable good to the group. Mr. Godfrey, who has had editorial charge of the paper for the past six years, is the oldest regular professional journalist in this city, except H. M. Whitney. He came here in the latter part of the 60's, under engagement, from the San Francisco Chronicle, as editor of the ADVERTISER, and succeeded Mr. Sheldon in that position. Mr. Gibson buying the ADVERTISER, Mr. Godfrey became assistant editor. He was afterwards associated with Mr. A. T. Atkinson on the GAZETTE. Mr. Godfrey has occupied the editorial chair of every daily paper in the city except the Star. He was also the first representative in Honolulu of the Associated Press.

The Planter's Monthly is conducted by H. M. Whitney as a magazine for the benefit of the planters, as its name indicates. It has been in existence for fourteen years, and during that time has built up a large circulation, not only at home, but in all the sugar producing countries of the world.

The Anglican Church Chronicle is a monthly edited by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, the rector of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, and is strictly a church paper. The Diocesan Magazine is edited by Bishop Willis, of the Anglican Church, and, although a church paper, has taken sides with the royalist faction, and has bitterly attacked the Provisional Government on several occasions. The Quarterly Review is published in the interests of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The above list of papers published in Honolulu is a very good showing for a place of its size. Many others have been started, have run a little while, and finally gone where all good as well as poor newspapers that do not pay dividends must go. Others will undoubtedly spring up, and will either live or die, but there is no doubt that in future years, when we have a cable from both the east and the west, that journalism of a high order will be, as it is now, at a premium.

GALLAGHER'S CASE POSTPONED.

Two Officers Fined for Brutally Assaulting a Chinaman.

The District Court was well filled yesterday morning when the case of Ben Gallagher, charged with mayhem, was called. The accused had sobered up, and when he faced the Court he was a very meek individual, and entered his plea of "Not Guilty" in a very quiet voice. His attorney, Cecil Brown, moved for postponement, and, by consent, it went over until next Thursday.

There was another charge against him—that of assaulting a hack-driver named Phillips. He admitted that he was guilty, and he was fined $10 and court costs amounting to three dollars. Wilson and Brown were then called. They are charged with being accessories in the mayhem case. Their examination went over until Thursday also. Wilson will be defended by Cecil Brown and C. W. Ashford will appear for the accused Brown.

After the above was disposed of the case of "Detective Toma," a Portuguese named Bright and a native, Opunui, came up for trial. All three are police officers and were charged with brutally assaulting a Chinaman about two weeks ago. The facts were published in the ADVERTISER at the time and are briefly these: The officers according to their own story, were on Smith street about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, the 15th inst., looking for a Japanese cook, who had deserted from a vessel in port. They had a long wait and to liven up things, Toma hired a native boy to play "Down on the Swanee River" while Bright executed a Portuguese jig on the veranda of a house occupied by a Chinese. They finally made so much noise that the occupant of the house emptied a bucket of water on the heads of the offenders. The officers did not like the bath and got even by entering the Chinaman's house, and after giving him a good clubbing they walked him down to jail.

Toma admitted that he struck the Chinese on the nose and drew blood. Bright denied everything. The judge did not believe the latter's story and fined him $25. Toma was assessed the same amount. The charge against Opunui was dismissed.

THE GALLEY SLAVE.

The Dailey Stock Company in a Drama New to This City.

The success of the Dailey Stock Company is unprecedented in local theatrical annals. Their business up to date has been simply immense, and there appears to be no loss of interest in the coming performances. Tonight opens the third week of the engagement and a good house will be present to witness the first performance in this city of "The Galley Slave." It was written by the late Bartley Campbell, and it is considered the best of his plays. It will be produced with that careful attention to details that has been such a surprise to Honolulu theater-goers as heretofore visiting companies have put on pieces in a slipshod manner.

On Thursday night a society drama entitled "Queen" will be given. It has made a success all over the United States and is a play that will not fail to give satisfaction in this city.

Reserved seats for both performances are on sale at Levey's.

To Pronounce "Hawaii."

The most commonly accepted manner of pronouncing the geographical name of the Sandwich Islands is "Hah-wi-e," the second syllable accented, and the "i" long, as in "pine," but when the question was once asked of a high-caste Hawaiian lady, well educated in her own and the English language, she answered:

"The proper pronunciation is Hah-vah-e-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English. The missionaries, who first translated our language, found it difficult to pronounce or express the sound which is, to my ear, correctly conveyed by the letter 'v' softened and made full. Our 'a' is pronounced broad, as you pronounce it in 'fall,' and our 'i' is like the English 'e.' The rule is to pronounce every vowel, and as the exception to the rule does not affect the double 'i' in Hawaii you will see that the word is 'Hah-vah-e-e.'"

"I was so badly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism that I could scarcely move. I used a great many remedies which did me no good. A friend presented me a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I began to take. The relief was quick and two bottles cured me completely. I authorize the use of my name and portrait in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla, for I think it a very valuable medicine. I recommend it to all who may be afflicted with rheumatism or old

AMERICAN

Union Party of the Hawaiian Islands

For the promotion of the best interests of the people of all the Hawaiian Islands and for the organization of a party having only this object in view, the following is adopted as a declaration of the principles upon which the organization to be known as the "American Union Party" is to be established, and upon this platform we invite the co-operation of every friend of good government.

1st. REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT.—The American Union Party is unalterably opposed to any form of monarchical government in the Hawaiian Islands, and declares its full allegiance to the Provisional Government, endorsing the proposal for a constitutional convention looking to the extension of popular representation in the Government.

2d. POLITICAL UNION.—We declare our leading principles to be the accomplishment of a political Union with the United States of America and the maintenance of a stable and honest Government.

3d. PUBLIC LANDS.—We favor such legislation as will promote the occupancy of all public lands, including those heretofore known as "crown lands," by small holders, and foster the development of varied industries, believing it to be of vital importance that "many acres" should be for "many men."

4th. CITIZENS' RIGHTS.—We declare that all citizens are equal before the law, and we are opposed to monopolies or privileged classes, favoring participation in the Government by every loyal citizen and declare for a liberal suffrage law that will, first of all, guarantee a vote to every man who rendered satisfactory service in the military or police departments of the Provisional Government.

5th. IMMIGRATION.—The evils of Asiatic immigration are so apparent that we declare in favor of its prohibition by positive and prudent methods, declaring in favor of such American, Portuguese or other European immigration as shall supply the necessary labor and furnish the country with permanent settlers.

6th. PUBLIC WORKS.—We favor the immediate establishment of a comprehensive system of public improvements that shall be of permanent value to the country and afford needed employment to the laboring classes, but we declare against importation of labor and material of any kind whatsoever for use on public works which can be obtained in the home market, and materials which must be obtained from abroad should be obtained through local dealers in open competition.

7th. PUBLIC OFFICES.—We hold that no person should occupy any position of trust or profit under the Government who is not loyal to the same.

8th. PRISON LABOR.—We oppose the employment of prison labor in any mechanical pursuits.

9th. TAX SYSTEM.—We favor a revision of the tax system whereby all property, improved and unimproved, shall be taxed on an equitable basis.

10th. LABOR.—We declare that in the Constitution and in legislation thereafter the rights of the wage earner should be fully considered.

11th. EDUCATION.—We favor the enlargement of the scope of the free-school system to the end that a university course may be available to the youth of this country.

12th. TELEGRAPHIC LINES.—We favor the establishment of an inter-island as well as a foreign cable system.
